GCC Innovation Conference & Tradeshow

After 2 years of delay due to the pandemic, GCC was finally able to host their first Innovation Conference & Tradeshow. Fourteen (14) principals participated in this event to showcase their products and provide technical, educational training sessions to GCC's customers. These sessions featured hydraulic, pneumatic and automation topics for guests to select based on their industry.

The Conference began with a networking welcome reception, allowing GCC sales team and customers the opportunity to enjoy the nice St. Petersburg sunshine and meet new people within the industry.

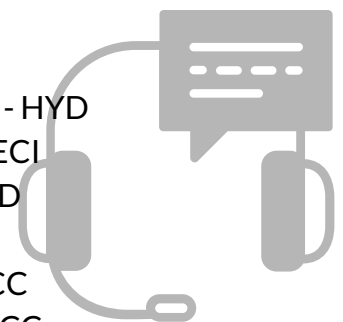

Everyone appeared happy to be back meeting in person with customers and that there was such a great turnout for this event.

No Limits: Hydraquip Sales Meeting

As we return to taking part in and hosting in-person events, Hydraquip branches joined together in Houston to conduct their sales meeting after 3 years of absence. For this meeting, Hydraquip invited its partners – Danfoss, Wandfluh and Schroeder – to present technical trainings. Sales teams also shared various success stories from particular projects as a prime example of how Hydraquip is working above and beyond to provide their customers with the best solutions. Hydraquip also had the opportunity to hear from SIT and Elite Controls and how to best utilize these synergies.

Having this in-person networking opportunity is a huge benefit to the sales team. Creating connections internally will strengthen a strong dynamic that contributes to the overall success of our company.
